BEYOND THE RIVER

Away Across the Mississippi is Held a Convincing Conversation.

"I tell you, sir, that they are one of the nearest combinations ever produced, and my experience of that sort of thing has been wide enough to entitle my judgment to some respect."

"Oh, I don't know," responded the first speaker's friend, with a little yawning, "though he didn't take much interest in the subject, I have never been able to see much difference in those things. They are all pretty nearly the same size and made of about the same stuff."

The talk, of which the foregoing is a fragment, took place in Gallatin, Missouri, not long ago, in the snug office of Dr. M. P. Flowers, one of the leading physicians of the State, who followed up the vein in which he had introduced it substantially in these words:

"Nonsense; that is the rigmarole of a boy, or rather of a man who either doesn't know or doesn't care what he says. Those things, as you call them, are just as different as the moon is from green cheese. Now, I think, I should like to hear you very good in most cases for the relief of pain or inflammation. But, in the first place, they are not the same thing. The hands and the feet, besides being always out of reach when they are most wanted."

"Well, my dear doctor," sighed the traveler from the North, "clear would you have? This is a wretched world anyhow, and nothing is ever at hand when it is wanted. You can't suggest anything

"Yes, I can," broke in the Doctor, thumping the table with his fist. "I can suggest BENSON'S PAIN EXPELLER PLASTER. I have tried it on my patients, and in all cases relief has followed in from three to forty-eight hours. The old plasters are like a piece of paper. This is a telegraphic dispatch. For instance, in cases of Neuralgia, Muscular Rheumatism, Lumbago, retarded action of the Kidneys, and—"

"I give it up, Doctor, and in case of need I'll buy Benson's," said the traveler, pleasantly.

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

Brown's Iron Bitters will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

27 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1883. Gent's—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried Brown's Iron Bitters as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption.

Having lost her weight, and the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required," and when informed that her sister was taking Brown's Iron Bitters, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Herald's Washington special says: "The work of preparing the war records for publication has brought to light some interesting dispatches from Grant upon the subject of assignments to command in the Shenandoah Valley, after the raid into Maryland, in the movements against Washington in July, 1864. It has heretofore been supposed that General Grant first insisted upon Sheridan for that service. It now appears that he suggested Gen. Franklin in his first dispatch and next Meade. The further interesting fact is brought out that in case Meade was so assigned Grant desired to be placed in command of the Army of the Potomac. The dispatches also show that Grant had great confidence in Meade, and that he spoke in a manner quite at variance with a letter published by General Badeau in his military history."

The following from the Sacramento Bee of yesterday will appear strange to old Californians: The snow is an inch and a half deep in Napa valley. At noon it was snowing at Oakland and Dixon. Apparently there was quite a storm at the latter place. Passengers at the depot at noon saw a very unusual sight, for the train from San Francisco came in slightly covered with snow.

San Francisco cannot pay her gas bills. She has over 5,000 street lamps, and her funds will not allow her to light over 3,000. All the lamps burning cost her $19,500 a month, and she has only $11,650 a month which she can appropriate for that purpose.

Quitting advertising in dull times is like pulling down a dam when the water is low. When trade revives, it will rush by him who does not stay it with ready customers. The way to have such always on hand is thorough advertising.

The Eureka Leader says: "Ben. Sanders has just completed compiling the expenses of Eureka county for the past two years, showing the expenditures for all purposes to have been $268,621 07." Is it surprising that Eureka is dull and money scarce?

A San Joaquin farmer has imported a steam plow from England, which, it is claimed, will turn over from 50 to 100 acres per day.

The Senate has passed the bill giving Geo. W. Keith and J. M. Campbell $3,500 for compiling the laws.

The State of California pays $75,000 a year to keep up the military organization of the State.

The Truckee Republican seldom reaches this office until it is a week old. Why is it?

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

A Common Occurrence—A Foolish Girl Gets Into Her Own Trap.
CHICAGO, Feb. 8.

In 1881 a young lady giving the name of Belle Harris applied to the Woman's Home in this city and was admitted. She said she left her step-mother in Wisconsin, with whom she could not live, and was looking for means of earning a livelihood. Soon afterward, she said, a man named C. J. Jones of San Francisco offered her expenses to California and a salary to go into his family as governess. In a few days they went away. It turns out that her real name is Vesta L. Stiles, member of a good family of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and that her appearance here was a mere girlish freak. After staying in California a year she returned home. Recently a number of her friends in Fond du Lac received notes containing her picture accompanied by a statement supposed to have been made by Jones, who is said to be a dealer in Texas land. The statement is to the effect that when Jones and Miss Stiles reached St. Louis on the way to San Francisco they assumed relations only permissible between husband and wife and continued them the rest of the journey and for a time afterwards, Jones promising to marry her after he got divorced from his wife.

The Times has the following special in regard to the matter from Milwaukee: A correspondent learns that great sympathy is expressed in Fond du Lac for Miss Vesta L. Stiles, whose persecutions by one C. J. Jones of San Francisco became a matter of much notoriety. Miss Stiles is described as a good-looking brunette of medium height. Jones was in Fond du Lac a few weeks ago. He went to the lady's house and wanted to marry her, and was kicked out. Miss Stiles says Jones, when she was living at his house, proposed to her and said he would marry her as soon as he could get rid of his wife. She became frightened at some of his proposals and got out of bed at midnight and started for her home. Her money was barely sufficient to purchase a railway ticket, and consequently she suffered from hunger on the road. Why Miss Stiles hired out as governess does not appear. Her father is a druggist in good circumstances and she always moved in the best society in Fond du Lac. It is doubted whether Jones will be arrested, as he lives so far away, but Stiles proposes that he shall be well advertised.

MR. JONES TURNS UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8. Jones, charged with scandalizing Vesta L. Stiles, turns up here. He admits substantially being responsible for the circulars, but denies that he sent them personally, and intimates that the statement of the circular is true. He don't seek to make money out of the affair, but wishes to get even on the girl's friends for writing letters out here tending to make trouble in his family.

The New Route for Freight by Way of New Orleans.
NEW YORK, Feb. 8.

The Tribune has this: The completion of the Southern Pacific line to New Orleans will soon bring into the field of competition for traffic between New York and the Pacific another through line. Preparations are being completed for the securing of trans-continental business by way of Morgan's line of steamers from New York to New Orleans and thence to San Francisco over the Southern Pacific route. E. Hawley, who has for several years been general Eastern agent of the California fast freight line, has resigned and been appointed general Eastern agent of the Southern and Central Pacific roads. He will assume his new duties about February 15. Hawley was formerly contracting agent of the Rock Island road. It is claimed that the time for freight to San Francisco can be made by the new water and rail line in 20 days as against from 22 to 25 days by the present all rail routes. Rates by the new route will be the same as by the old lines.

An Old City to be Honored.
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

Ex-Chief Justice L. Prince of New Mexico gave a reporter yesterday an interesting account of the preparation for the celebration of the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the city of Santa Fe, New Mexico, to be held during the month of July next. The two chief features will be a display of historical treasures of the Territory and of the material resources and relics of old American trappers and scouts. A special building will be dedicated to antiquities and another building will contain an exposition of the mineral and agricultural wealth of the Territory of New Mexico.

The Floods in Pennsylvania and Ohio—Much Damage Done and More Anticipated.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.

The flood in the Monongahela reached its highest point—23 feet—at 3 this morning, and soon after began to recede, owing to the cold weather, which shut off small streams. The water did not get as high as anticipated. In Alleghany people have been compelled to leave their homes until the flood subsides. Dispatches from towns along the Monongahela report great damage from the inundation. The water is subsiding and no more danger is apprehended.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 8.

The Ohio river is rising along its whole length to an almost unprecedented height. At Wheeling it is 36 feet and still rising. Boats cannot pass under bridges. Marietta is flooded more than ever, as the railroad track between Marietta and Belpre is six feet under water. Cattlesburg is already flooded and more damage is expected on account of the great rise in the Sandy river.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Feb. 8.

The river is fifty-five feet and still rising. A considerable section of the city is under water. The Scioto river is also rising above the railroad track. North Portsmouth is under water. The river continues to rise, being fifty-two feet at 1 o'clock at Newport, Ky., which suffers most at present. Very many houses have been already invaded by water, and people are moving out. The Anchor Iron and Steel Works at Newport, the iron and pipe foundry and the greater part of Swift's Rolling Mills are compelled to suspend. Merchants along the river front of this city are busy removing goods from cellars and first floors. No railroads are yet submerged, but will be to-morrow if the rise continues.

Republicans Working for a Revision of the Tariff.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.

Late this afternoon a caucus of Republican Senators was held for the purpose of consulting as to the course to be pursued by Republicans relative to the pending tariff bill. The subject of tariff legislation was fully discussed in the light of a recent intimation from the House that no tariff bill can pass that body at this session. An opinion prevailed that the Senate should not be influenced to deviate from its present line of policy through any apprehension that the House might refuse to accept its work. It resolved to continue consideration of the bill during the remainder of the week, and make vigorous efforts to secure its completion.

China New Year in New York.
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.

Chinese New Year, which begins to-day, was ushered in at an early hour this morning by beating of gongs and blowing of horns by the natives of the Flowery Kingdom, who live in Mott street. New Year is the most important festival in the Chinese calendar. It is the time when all debts contracted during the year are paid and when all differences or quarrels are settled. Gifts are exchanged and pledges of good will given.

Central Pacific Stock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. Kiernan's News says of the Central Pacific: The break in this stock is a surprise to the street. There is nothing to justify it, as the property has suffered no reverses. The stock is largely concentrated, and as Huntington, Crocker and Stanford are not engaged in stock operations the break does not affect them.

Fatal Mining Accident.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 8. A dozen miners at work in the Logan colliery, Northumberland county, yesterday afternoon, were buried by the caving in of the mine. Two were killed and five fatally wounded. All were Polish miners of considerable experience, married, and living in and about the vicinity of the mine. The accident was caused by firing a pistol. The concussion loosened the wall of the mine. The bodies were frightfully mutilated.

A Railroad Crank in Boston.
BOSTON, Feb. 8.

A wild scheme for a narrow gauge railroad from Boston to the Pacific is being agitated by a man who comes here from Idaho. The Journal says his map contains a route which touches the following points: Boston, Worcester, Springfield, the Poughkeepsie bridge, Petersburg, Chicago and then makes a bee line for the Pacific, passing some 200 miles north of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads.

Don't Want to Part with Him.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 8.

The Governor has declined to deliver Frank James upon the requisition from the Governor of Minnesota to answer a charge of murder in connection with the Northfield Bank robbery. Governor Crittenden states that he cannot deliver the prisoner to any other State until the disposal of indictments pending in Missouri.

Result of a Cold Snap.

GALVESTON, Feb. 8. The loss to stockmen throughout the State by the recent cold snap will not exceed 5 per cent.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 8. Advice from various parts of the State show an average loss of sheep through the recent spell of cold weather from 15 to 20 per cent. Cattle of all kinds suffered to a great extent.

Bad Soldier Boys.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. The 23d regiment has again become notorious by an attempt of a young woman named Lottie Rama to kill Lieut. George E. B. Hart. The shooting occurred near the armory, where she met Hart by appointment. When they met she drew a revolver and fired. He turned and ran and she followed, discharging four remaining cartridges as fast as possible. She was arrested, and gave her age as 19. The past Summer, when the regiment returned from encampment, the woman fell in love with a member whose name she refused to give. He accomplished her ruin and deserted her. Hart, whom she had known from childhood, besought her to live with him. She did so till about two weeks ago, when he, too, deserted her.

Took his Coin with Him to the Grave.
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 7.

August Disfenthal, a German farmer, died in the Emigrant boarding-house at New York on the day he was to start to the home of his brother in the far West. The body was buried in the Potter's field at Weehawken, and the brother informed. He wrote that deceased had money. The body was exhumed and over $2,000 was found in the undershirt.

Eads' Subsidy Withheld.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. The Attorney-General holds that under his contract with the government Captain Eads is obliged to keep the entire south pass to the Gulf of Mexico at the stipulated depth, not merely at the jetties, and for failing to do so the installment due him the 7th of December has been withheld.

The Floods Receding.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 7. Rivers in this vicinity have fallen. Heavy rains prevailing since noon. About one hundred families were driven from their homes by the floods. At Peru thirty families are homeless, losing greatly. It is reported to-night that a family of six persons were drowned in a house at Keller's Station.

A Millionaire's Brain.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8. Application has been made for the appointment of a conservator of the estate of the well known millionaire and Democratic politician, Perry H. Smith. The first evidence of failing mental force was observed in London last Summer.

An Old Congressman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. Richard Keese, the last surviving member of the 20th Congress, died yesterday morning at Keeseville, N. Y. He was born on the 23d of November, 1794.

A Change of Mind and Name.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 7. Miss Lotta Galloway, a highly educated young lady, has renounced the Christian religion and embraced the Hebrew, taking a new name.

Disturbing the Dead.

BUFFALO, Feb. 7. Certain persons claiming to be heirs of the widow of President Fillmore have petitioned the Surrogate to open probate of will on the ground that they were not cited to appear when the will was proved.

Abating a Nuisance.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7. The Police Board has been asked by the Aldermen to grant no more permits to members of the salvation army to march through the streets.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS

POLITE TUSCARORAS.
They Indulge in a Little Serim-mage.

TUSCARORA, Feb. 7. About 5 o'clock last evening two teamsters, named Archie Harper and Joe Lyons, engaged in a shooting affray in front of Dallas' saloon, wherein ten or eleven shots were fired. Some two weeks ago Lyons, while intoxicated, was slightly cut in the arm in a bar-room quarrel. Meeting Harper in another saloon, he accused him of having done the stabbing, and abused him in vile language. Lyons said if Harper would come out on the sidewalk they would settle it, as he did not want to raise a row in another man's house. Harper said: "You go first," which Lyons did. As Lyons stepped outside, both men fired simultaneously. Harper followed to the door and they continued shooting until their pistols were empty. Lyons was shot in the breast and is not expected to live. He has a wife and two young children. Harper was arrested and lodged in jail.

Nevada Legislation.

CARSON, Feb. 8, 1883. The amendments to Melarkey's railroad bill by the Committee of the Whole were adopted in the Assembly to-day and the bill passed to engrossment by a unanimous vote.

Shot and Killed.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7. A man named Parker was shot and instantly killed at Folsom last evening by a man named Lawrence. The men were laborers in the employ of the Natoma Company.

Cold Weather—A Report that a Stage Driver and Passengers are Frozen to Death.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 7. Butte papers received here to-day by a report reached that city on Monday night that the Missoula stage, due at Deer Lodge Sunday evening, had been lost in a blizzard in the Flint Creek hills and the horses, driver and several passengers frozen to death. Passengers who left Deer Lodge Sunday evening say the Missoula stage had not been heard from at that hour. The day was bitter cold, with a keen north wind. Flint Creek hills are a succession of Backbone Divide, which are exposed to the full force of the storm and present no means whatever of shelter from the wind. It was there that a heroic stage driver last month lifted a lady passenger from her seat and leaving her in the road drove off in order to compel her to get up a circulation by running after the stage.

The weather in this Territory continues exceedingly cold. Stock is suffering and fruit growers report that peach and apricot trees are nearly all killed or greatly damaged.

There are now but 50 miles of track to be laid to complete the Denver and Rio Grande road between Salt Lake and Denver.

Irish Affairs—Parnell Wants Pay For His Services.
DUBLIN, Feb. 8.

The trial of Dowling for the murder of policeman Cox began to-day. Archbishop McCabe is better, but still very feeble.

Parnell, in a communication asking the attendance of Irish members of the House of Commons at the opening of Parliament next May, says events of the greatest importance to Ireland will be discussed. A preliminary meeting of the party will be held in a fortnight to consider the Irish members during the session. Parnell, writing to Joseph Walsh concerning the possible vacancy in representing county Mayo, deprecates the election of a member who refuses to take his seat. If the time came for Irish members to retire from the House of Commons, he says that they should do so in a body. He earnestly advocates the adoption of some system of pecuniary compensation of members. If the constituencies do not make an effort in that direction he would be obliged to consider whether he could persevere in the thankless work of endeavoring to keep together an independent Irish party.

A Tale of the Sea.

LONDON, Feb. 8. Survivors of the disaster to the steamer Kennimire Castle, which foundered in the Bay of Biscay on the 2d instant, subsisted three days by chewing flannel vests. The third officer became stark mad and jumped overboard, but was rescued.

Three Patriots Juggled.

DUBLIN, Feb. 8. Davitt, Healy and Quinn, arrested some time ago for making inflammatory speeches, have refused to give bail, and this morning were lodged in Kilmainham jail for the term of six months.

Getting Civilized.

BERLIN, Feb. 7. The Emperor of China telegraphed congratulations to the Crown Prince on the occasion of his silver wedding, the first telegram ever sent by a Chinese sovereign to a European prince.

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest, Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellings and Sprains, Burns and Scalds, General Bodily Pains, Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frosted Feet and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches.

No Preparation on earth equals Dr. J. C. Jacobs' Oil as a safe, sure, simple and cheap External Remedy. A trial entails but the comparatively trifling outlay of 50 Cents, and every one suffering with pain can have cheap and positive proof of its claims.

JOTTINGS.

Minor Occurrences in and About Town.

E. A. Allen has a choice lot of valentines.

Bartholomew's drawing books at Allen's.

The length of the 8:30 V. & T. train reminded one of good times long gone.

W. B. Todhunter shipped 18 cars of beets to San Francisco last night's train.

It was so cold last night that billiard balls froze. Therefore few games were played.

Valentines! Valentines at Nasby's. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1 and 3—0, 8, 20, 23, 26.

The chicken thief is plying his vocation, to help out the festivities of the Chinese New Year.

The Arcade has been crowded during the past week. Lemery believes there is luck in a new register.

Hank Mason of Carson is hauling 30,000 ties from Mono Lake to the Carson and Colorado railroad at Benton, a distance of 40 miles.

February holds its own for producing cold weather. Though it is the smallest month in the year it bids fair to be the biggest use of the lot before it winds up.

Judging from the number of bursted water-pipes lately, and the consequent activity of the plumbers, it is quite evident that it requires a warm day for one of that fraternity to get left.

White & Perkins, it is said, will assume control of the Palace restaurant and connect it with the hotel. They will probably run it in the same manner in which it has heretofore been conducted.

We of Nevada, while complaining of cold weather, are not so badly off as the people of Butte City, Montana, where whisky froze solid in 30 minutes and the people carried cocktails in chinks in their overcoat pockets.

A St. Louis man has had 16 attacks of delirium tremens, which proves him to be a man of means. Not every man is able to buy that amount of luxury. It a man drinks George Becker's beer he will never be troubled with anything except the monotony of perfect health. The Pacific Brewery is the very best in the market. Try it, and you will say it is delicious.

Some folks don't know how to be happy. They can't see the difference between having a spoonful of vinegar in the molasses of life and a spoonful of molasses in the vinegar of life. If any man is in doubt as to what he wants to make him perfectly happy, let him go to Chase & Thyes' and ask the bar-keeper to prescribe. Ten to one he is made happier than a jackass rabbit in a grass plot.

Mrs. Langtry is doing well. She will carry away more of our money than did that other professional beauty, Mr. Oscar Wilde. But neither of them will have half as much money as J. K. Everett will collect if he sticks to business for a few years. He is making arrangements to accumulate a fortune. His trade is assuming enormous proportions, because he sells groceries at a mere shade over cost, but he sells tons, when other dealers sell pounds.

PERSONALS.

Martin Sullivan and J. R. Garcia of Truckee are at the Arcade.

C. F. McLaughlin has returned to Truckee and opened a law-office there.

T. W. Fitzgerald of Hot Springs, Nev., is registered at the Arcade Hotel.

George Russell, formerly a partner of Governor Bradley, was in town last evening.

Miles Wing is laid up with a cold that has worried considerable flesh from his bones.

J. B. Wright, Division Superintendent of the Sacramento division of the C. P., was in town yesterday.

E. W. Thompson of the Eight-mile House, John Quinn of Carson and G. W. Huffaker are at the Palace.

Wm. B. and Geo. Todhunter are at the Palace. They expect 200 head of beef cattle from Surprise Valley to-night.

Bob Hamilton of the firm of Baker & Hamilton, Sacramento and San Francisco, spent the day in Reno yesterday.

General Superintendent Fillmore, with a party of other prominent railroad men, left this morning for Sacramento by special train.

Lost Man Department.

W. W. Corcoran of Belmont, Nye county, Nevada, wishes information of Mike Whalen (better known as Tom Whalen). Mr. Whalen is a native of Staten Island, N. Y.; is a carpenter by trade, and formerly resided in Nye county, Nevada. When last heard from he was living in Elko, Nevada. His aged father, who lives in New York State, is very anxious to hear from him.

Found Guilty.

The jury in the Wilson forgery case returned a verdict of guilty last night at 10 o'clock. Judge Boardman will tell the Major how long it will be necessary to work for the State within the confines of the penitentiary walls Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

WILLY WILSON.

End of a Blackmailing Trump's Impositions—The Major's Old Partner in a Similar Predicament.

Sheriff Emmitt took Wilson to Cooke's gallery this morning and had his photograph taken. While he was there Wilson told a GAZETTE reporter that he felt well pleased with his conviction. He acknowledged that he had been going a little swift and thought his conviction would make a man of him. "I, like a runaway railroad train," said the Major, "needed someone to check me. The State of Nevada blew the whistle and the hand of Justice applied the brakes. I'm satisfied and think I got just what I deserved." The Major improved the opportunity to stuff the newspaper with a column or two of his long-winded lies about his former life and his connection with the press and retired, but not until he expressed a wish that the prison Warden would not set him to cutting stone in the quarry, as his eyesight is very poor. It is somewhat singular that Wilson's partner, Raye, was yesterday sent to prison in Sacramento for blackmail. Wilson, under the name of R. F. Fitzgerald, and Raye, published a mangy little paper in Sacramento, some years ago, and the simultaneous conviction of both of them shows that they have got into the mills that "grind slowly but exceedingly fine." Raye is well known among printers as a gabby noodle whose brains have taken root in the wrong part of his anatomy. The Sacramento Bee says of him: "Raye has been a well known character in this city for years, has been printer, insurance agent and done business of another nature. At one time he was engaged with R. F. Fitzgerald in publishing a disreputable little paper in this city. Fitzgerald came to grief over in Nevada for forgery the same week that Raye was convicted here. The latter has for a long time been regarded as capable of doing lecherous things, but if he was guilty of any previous illegal acts his shrewdness and his claim to respectability prevented arrest and punishment. The public can scarcely feel any sympathy for a man who has acted as Raye has. His punishment is fully deserved, and should serve as a warning to blackmailers and extortionists."

DUCK HUNTING.

The Device of an Enterprising Duck Hunter.

A California farmer hunts wild geese with a cow. He has trained the animal to walk slowly into the field where a flock of geese has settled on the grain. She browses meanwhile, and he walks alongside on the side away from the geese. When within shooting distance he gently murmurs, "Soo, soo," and the obedient bovine lies down. He rests the fowling piece over her back and blows away, both barrels at once, and bags thirty or forty of the geese.

A farmer on the Truckee Meadows has invented a duck hunting outfit which discounts the California man's cow. He stripped the hide from a bullock and mounted it on a wire skeleton which looked as natural as a living animal. He cut away the belly of his wire bullock for his body, and made two holes in the shoulder to take sight through. When he wants a duck-shoot he drops his skeleton over his head and starts out for the tules. He can walk right into a flock of ducks without startling them, and has on one or two occasions returned home with his hiding place full of teal caught with his hands. He never fails to kill all he wants when he takes his gun, for he marches into a flock and turns both barrels loose at a time. He usually bags the whole flock. He has applied for a patent.

INDIAN SHOT.

A Drunken Redskin Gets a Good Dose of Lead.

At Austin on Tuesday evening Indian Joe and Indian Pete, the latter who has served a term in the State Prison, and released about four months ago, both drunk, entered the stable of Joaquin Patargo, at the lower end of town, and tried to pick a fight with his hired man, Sam Tippet. He tried to put them out, when they both jumped him and a general row ensued, in which the lamp was upset but extinguished before it could do any harm. After quite a lively skirmish, Indian Pete made a rush for the door to escape, when Tippet grabbed a shot-gun and fired, the charge hitting Pete in the right leg just below the thigh, causing an ugly wound, which may necessitate amputation. So says the Reveille.

A Renote Shot.

R. H. Lindsay is in receipt of a letter from Montana stating that one McSweeney, a gambler known in Reno as "Marty," was shot and killed a few days ago. He had $1,700 in money on his person at the time of the shooting. McSweeney is a son of Mrs. Wear of this town.

Prison Changes.

Major Garrard says he proposes, as do his subordinates, to do all he can to assist the incoming Warden, Mr. Bell, in getting started on the right foot. Mr. Bell will take possession on the 14th inst. He intends leaving Reno with his family about that time.

AN OPIUM WRECK.

A Retrospect of Misspent Years—One Poor Creature Among Many.

In a little shanty down by the river a Truckee Republican reporter found a black-eyed and diseased stricken woman, still a woman, a spark of womanhood still left to designate what the wreck had been. One eye was black and swollen, the hair was unkempt, its matted locks giving plain testimony that it had been uncombed for weeks. Her clothes, what few there were, were torn, shredded, filthy; one foot encased in an old woolen sock, the other in a time-worn gaiter. An opium pipe lay beside her, the bowl still warm, the one eye bleary and gazing into vacancy. "Tis my only comfort now. I saw a girl to-day tripping along the street. She looked as I did ten years ago. What is she better than I? I just come back home and took a whiff at the China medicine to drive away evil thoughts. I've got to live. I hain't the sand to send a bullet crashing through my poor brain, and if I had I haven't the money to buy a gun. Oh, yes! I had plenty once. I wore silk in those days. My man was a good one, but he was like me and kicked me out. I don't blame him though. I thought then I'd always be young. I gave no thought in those days, but it's where we all end. Some is a little better off when they die than I will be, but mostly not. Yes, I've been a bad one. The liquor which I have drank poured into the Truckee would fill its banks. I ain't far much longer. What good was it to me has all gone out. Why, there ain't a gin mill on the street as would trust me for a drink, and I mind the day when the best of them would lay down their last dollar for one smile from me. That last dollar would go a good ways now. I've got a Chinaman that brings me a pipeful of medicine once in a while, and he is a friend in need. Some of these days the town will have to bury me, and I don't care how quick. I'm ready, but once I was as pretty and as gay as any of them, and look at me now. I guess I'll finish my medicine. You don't want nothin' from me, do you? Then excuse me and lend me a match, will you?"

A BULLY BOUNCED.

A Bad Man From Bodie Is Dropped In the Wilderness.

"A bad man from Bodie," as the boys say, got on the train the other night somewhere south of Nord, and when Conductor Hatch called on him for his fare he refused to give him a ticket or the money either, and to tantalize Hatch and show his contempt for the official and the Central Pacific Railroad corporation, pulled out a handful of coin and showed it to the conductor, but would not pay him a single cent for the ride. This proceeding so incensed Hatch, and his swaggering, defiant and bullying manner so aroused his ire that the train was slowed up and the bully put off the cars beyond Carson. When he left the cars he was giving vent to oaths both deep and loud, and swearing vengeance to Hatch when he saw him again. It remains to be seen whether or not he will carry his threat into execution. Hatch, it is said, is a bad man to fool with, and tramps and dead beats all along the line fear him.

Humboldt's Cattle King.

Col. Hardin, the Humboldt county cattle king has been spending a day or two at the capital. He came over last night on route home. The Colonel informed a GAZETTE reporter that he was shipping 30 car loads of beef cattle to California markets per month. For six months in the year he averages seven car loads per month. Colonel Hardin will ship 600 head more from his range this winter.

Crutcher's Stock Farm.

E. W. Crutcher has just received a map of the vast territory covered by his stock range. Mr. Crutcher owns all the meadow land and water on a section of country 61 miles one way by 42 miles the other. He has 15,000 cattle on the place and 1,000 head of horses. The place produces 1,300 or 1,400 head of beef cattle every summer. A New England farmer would get lost on a Nevada stock farm.

What a Little Water Will do.

Billings, Montana, only six months old, has already a permanent population of 1,000. The Clark's Fork bottom ditch, 39 miles long, terminating at Billings, is now completed, and will be ready this year to irrigate 100,000 acres of fertile land. Of this area it is believed 50,000 acres will be sowed in grain, yielding a surplus for shipment of about 70,000 bushels.

The Grasshopper Crop.

Sierra Valley men say that at Adam's Neck, in that locality, the grasshopper eggs are to be seen in the ground in considerable quantities, from which it is inferred the hopper crop will be pretty good next summer.

Pork and Bacon.

The ranchmen of Paradise Valley are not only shipping many fat hogs, but are also putting up a good deal of bacon for sale next summer.

ADAPTED TO NEVADA.

A Bonanza That Grows Richer the More It is Worked.

Statistics show that the hog furnishes more export material than all the fat cattle, all the dairy products, all the horses, all the mules, all the sheep and all the poultry and poultry produce put together. While the exported hog products for the two years of 1879 and '80 amounted to the great sum of $180,087,726, all the products of all the other domestic animals themselves amounted to only $106,870,382, making about $75,000,000 in favor of the hogs as against all and every other domestic animal and products from the same that found an export market. The hog multiplies fast and matures quickly. When it is considered how important a factor the hog is in the production of wealth it is not a little strange that the real scientific knowledge of how to raise him and keep him healthy is so little understood? As seen above, the hog brings more money to this nation from other nations than all other domestic animals put together, and yet there is not a man in America that understands the diseases of the hog or can cure them when sick. Here is a field that our agricultural colleges and veterinary doctors had better explore. Nevada alone is capable of supplying the Pacific States with pork. It is a crop that can be raised away from a railroad and driven to a shipping point, or it can be killed and the pork shipped. A great many thousands dollars have been paid out by Nevada towns that might just as well have been kept in the State. Hogs live well on alfalfa and grain—things that are often a drug in Nevada—and there is no present prospect of their ever being a time when there will not be a ready sale for all that can be raised in this country.
